

Do you fill multipane windows with Argon?

Automatic filling equipment now on the market is expensive and requires trained operators. Precision has introduced low cost manual and semi-automatic filling stations that can fill 1 to 4 windows at the same time safely and reliably.

Our 4 station model allows your operators to dial up a fill time, insert the filling wand, and push a button to automatically fill a window. At the end of the programmed time, gas flow ceases. After sealing the window, insert the wand into another window of the same size and push the button to repeat.

Prices start from $775 for a simple one station setup to $4,500 for the semi-automatic 4 station unit.
